

this picture
On the lower ground floor, the media room has been kept white, modern and simple as there was no evidence of any Victorian features

far right Elisabeth is very happy with her Bulthaup kitchen. 'The quality is good and the after-care service is great' below The glazed doors in the kitchen-diner are a Swiss sky-frame system – a minimal design which slides back into the wall

Making history

Elisabeth and Gareth Turner have restored and reworked their Victorian house to create a balance between historical elegance and modern simplicity Words Sara Sarre Photography Alexander James